Negotiations Update

This round, our bargaining team will be at the table discussing the salary and benefits every educator deserves.
A strong contract doesn't happen at the bargaining table alone—it happens when we stand united as a collective voice. Here is how you can make an immediate impact:

- Show Up in Red: When negotiation sessions happen, we need every member in the room wearing red. A sea of red sends an unmistakable message that we are paying attention, we are organized, and we back our bargaining team 100%.
- Red for Ed Monday: Let's build momentum across the district! Wear your red to school this Monday to show your solidarity and support for your team.
- Share Your Pride: Snap a photo with your building colleagues in your red gear and post it to our social media channels. Be sure to tag us and use #OEAstrong so everyone sees the strength of our union!

PLC Schedules

There have been many questions sent to us regarding the calendar for next year and PLC schedules. Next year's calendar was presented to the OPS board on Nov. 16th. You can go to the OPS Board website to take a look.

The student day will be ending 20 minutes earlier next year to give educators more time to collaborate and plan. The options include meeting for PLCs before school, after school, or during your plan time. There is also a hybrid model that is a combination of all three. Building principals will be sharing the information with you and collaborating to make a decision on PLC placement for next year.
