

Rest, Relax, Recharge: You've Earned It

We made it!

As the quiet settles into the hallways, I want to take a moment to express my deepest gratitude for everything you have poured into our students, our classrooms, and each other this year.

Teaching is a work of the heart, and you have given so much of yours over the past ten months. You've navigated challenges, celebrated victories, and built a community where students felt safe, valued, and ready to learn.

Now, the lesson plan is officially empty.

My hope for you over the next few months is that you truly unplug, unwind, and recharge. Lean into the things that bring you joy outside of the classroom—whether that's traveling, reading for pure pleasure, spending uninterrupted time with family, or simply enjoying a second cup of coffee while it's actually hot.

Thank you for your dedication, your resilience, and your passion. Enjoy every single moment of your well-deserved summer break!

Synopsis: In the tense 72 hours before D-Day, and the fate of the free world hanging in the balance, PRESSURE follows General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Captain James

Stagg as they face an impossible choice—launch the largest and most dangerous seaborne invasion in history or risk losing the war altogether.

MTSSB Summit

OPS and OEA have been working in collaboration on student behavior. OPS has set aside 20 spots for the Summit this summer. If you would like to attend, please reply to this email with your name and the conference date you would like.

Join us this summer to strengthen the foundations of our MTSS-B systems and connect daily practices to meaningful student outcomes. This year's summit will focus on deepening implementation, strengthening team processes, using rapid cycles of improvement, and ensuring our work continues to drive results across schools and programs.
